

PMOD Training & Support Packages

PMOD technical support is well-known for its fast and efficient help with technical difficulties and program use. The PMOD Support Policy is described on www.pmod.com/open/support.html. Please note that extended application support and advice regarding the methodology or the interpretation of results is beyond the scope of our technical support.

For self-training, the complete end user documentation is available on www.pmod.com / Resources / Documentation. Furthermore, a wealth of video-based training material has been developed, allowing users to get familiar with the main features of PMOD (www.pmod.com/open/training).

Beyond technical support and the training via online material, PMOD Training & Support Packages are being offered as follows:

- Personal/small group sessions via online communication (Teams, WebEx, Zoom, and alike)
- Content tailored to your needs, provided by seasoned application scientists
- Credit in multiples of 5 hours

- Each session's duration (communication + preparation / post-processing – if applicable) is deducted from the Credit (in minutes; minimum of 30 minutes per session).
- A remaining Credit may be used towards payment of other PMOD services, licenses, and products.
- PMOD reserves the right to use materials (such as slides and videos) generated for a customer's training & support package for other purposes. Specific data will only be shown with the express permission of the customer and while providing proper credit.
